U.S. signs nuclear pact with China

New York (AP)—The U.S.-Chinese nuclear operation agreement signed Monday gives American manufacturers like Westinghouse and General Electric an entree into an already spirited bidding war with the British, French, Japanese and West Germans.

While there's no guarantee the pact will bring new business to the American nuclear plant makers, industry experts are confident they'll get their share of work on the 10 to 12 units the Chinese will build in the next decade.

"The other countries have certainly had a head start, but we've got a good product," said Bob Szalay, senior vice president of Atomic Industrial Forum, an industry trade group.

Szalay, who accompanied about 25 American scientists and manufacturers' representatives to Peking and three other cities in October, said he's sure the other countries have been busy "trying to negotiate on the other plants."

"But I'm sure the American manufacturers will be ready to get off the starting line and get in there with the information and proposals necessary to make them competitive," he said.

General Electric, for example, has been meeting with Chinese nuclear representatives since 1979, awaiting government approval to take the process further.

Despite lagging sales in the United States, both GE and Westinghouse have been doing extensive nuclear business overseas. Both are building or have built plants in Japan, Spain, Taiwan and Italy.

GE also is doing nuclear business in Switzerland, Mexico and Holland. Westinghouse is involved with additional nuclear plants in Korea, the Philippines, Yugoslavia, Brazil, Sweden and Belgium.

"The agreement represents an opportunity that has now been formally sanctioned by the United States for trade to open with China across the whole spectrum of civil nuclear technology," said Hugh D. Hexamer, manager of communications for GE's nuclear energy operations headquarters in San Jose, Calif.

"It will be a number of years in blossoming, but you can't ignore a market that is fueled by a population of more than 1 billion people that is critically in need of electricity," he added.

While the Americans are confident, the competition will be tough.

China is set to sign the contracts with French and British nuclear power firms this summer for construction of a 1,800-megawatt nuclear plant.

Dixie cups, screen doors?

Butler, Cole ease political barriers

by Michael Kuo

Student Body President-elect Joe Butler met with administrators and student officials last week, attempting to secure a foot inside what had previously appeared to be a reluctant door.

Butler met with Eastern President Stanley Rives, Athletic Director R.C. Johnson, Executive Vice President-elect Angelynn Richardson, and Student Body President John Cole.

Butler said Sunday he and Cole "decided to put up screen doors instead of real ones."

Cole had said earlier, "If he does not get serious, I will close my door to him." However, Cole was more optimistic Monday, saying, "I don't even think there will be screen doors, really."

"We decided that we can help each other," Cole added. He said he supports Butler's plan to increase voter registration.

Butler announced last week he will initiate a voter registration drive in the fall.

Cole said he advised Butler to start considering presidential appointments, which will include three Student Supreme Court justices.

Cole also said that another position may become available for appointment—his own seat as financial vice president. "I fully admit I have resumes out. And I'd be a damned fruitcake if I got a good enough job offer and didn't take it," Cole said.

However, Butler said Sunday he has not yet considered the matter of presidential appointments. He also declined on-the-record comment on his meetings with Rives and Johnson.

After meeting with Butler last Friday, Rives said he believes that Butler has "interesting ideas." Also, Rives said although Butler ran an unusual campaign, "It's what an individual does in office that counts."

Williams decides AB budget's fate

by Marc Pacatte

An objection from the Student Senate over the creation of a $10,000 student fee line item for concerts next year, will be decided by officials in Eastern's administration rather than the student boards charged with allocating the fees.

Student fee-funded groups' budgets have been sent to Glenn Williams, vice president for student affairs, after the senate asked the Apportionment Board—and the AB refused—to reconsider creating a $10,000 concert budget.

Senate Speaker Ron Wesel said he was "disappointed" with the AB's actions Thursday.

"Our stipulation recommended AB reconsider the line item, Wesel said, "and they didn't even reconsider."

Wesel attended the Thursday meeting with information from a student government referendum on the ballot in the Spring of 1982 in which students voted overwhelmingly to keep the University Board's concert budget zero based.

"We got the budgets from the AB on the 18th and had a week to review them," he said.

During the week the referendum was found, which Wesel said he thought changed the outlook on AB's recommendation to switch concert funding from a zero-based method to providing a $10,000 cushion.

However, AB chairman Jeff Hunt said, "We looked at that pretty closely," and decided the referendum was "old," and the UB's arguments for the line item had merit.

Hunt emphasized that the $10,000 will not cause student fees to increase.

"The $10,000 isn't going to make that much difference," he said. However, by shifting the money from the AB reserve to UB's concert budget, "we will lose interest."

Hunt added, "The concerts are funded by student fees no matter how you slice it."

Wesel disagreed, saying the referendum—which asked students: "Are you in favor of" and then listed as choices "Keeping a zero-based concert budget" and "Creating a student fee-funded concert budget"—clearly illustrated that students are opposed to funding concerts any way other than zero basing.

The tally on the question was 1,944 to keep concerts zero based and 611 to fund concerts through student fees.

Wesel added that it was "disheartening" that the AB refused to reconsider the line item creation given the new information on the matter.

The question of whether to fund the concerts through the $10,000 line item or delete that from the budget and return to the zero-base is now on Williams' desk for either his decision or Eastern (See WILLIAMS, page 7)

Khadafy continues enemy hunt

LONDON (AP)—Col. Moammar Khadafy of Libya will keep hunting down his opponents abroad, despite the diplomatic uproar following the killing of a British policewoman by a gunman in the Libyan Embassy, terrorism experts say.

They fear there will be little international action to smash what one authority called "nests of terrorists disguised as diplomats."

However, they believe European governments will toughen diplomatic rules to curb fanatical students, the cutting edge of Khadafy's terror campaign, who use Libyan embassies as bases.

"He'll go easy for a while," retired Maj. Gen. Richard Clutterbuck told the Associated Press Monday. "But he won't abandon his campaign against his opponents because he really doesn't mind how many people he kills.

He's very unscrupulous and very reckless." Paul Wilkinson, professor of international relations at Aberdeen University, said by phone: "He'll probably now change tactics possibly focusing on dissidents in North Africa and the Middle East rather than Europe. People have been very active in that region lately."

The Times of London has quoted Libyan sources in Britain as saying Khadafy ordered his hit squads to lie low after the 11-day siege of the Libyan Embassy and Britain's decision to break diplomatic ties.

A gunman firing from a window of the embassy April 17 killed a British policewoman and wounded 11 dissidents protesting the Khadafy regime. Britain formally ended relations at midnight Sunday.

Murder suspect held in custody

MARION (AP)—A prison spokesman said Monday that authorities have a suspect in the beating death of another prisoner at the violence-plagued U.S. Penitentiary at Marion.

The inmate suspect, whom spokesman Dean Leech declined to identify, was being kept in an isolated detention unit.

Leech said Millard D. Hubbard, 55, of Lexington, Ky., died Sunday afternoon at Welborn Hospital in Evansville, Ind. Hubbard was transferred there by helicopter from Marion Memorial Hospital.

Hubbard's death was the latest of 28 violent deaths at the maximum-security prison since it opened in 1964 and replaced Alcatraz. Of those deaths, three were guards and 25 were inmates.

Leech said Hubbard suffered severe head injuries in the beating, which occurred about 8 a.m. Sunday in a corridor of the prison's D cell block

President gets warm reception

SHANGHAI, China (AP)—President Reagan received the warmest welcome of his six-day visit to China on Monday and said at a farewell banquet that the United States and China are prepared "to write a new chapter of peace and progress."

Winding up his final day in China at a banquet given by Shanghai Mayor Wang Daohan, Reagan said, "My trip to China has been as important and enlightening as any I've taken as president."

Reagan also finally got an opportunity to speak directly to a Chinese television audience without having his remarks censored, but there was still a hitch—his speech was not translated into Chinese.

Observing that 12 years ago Richard M. Nixon visited the People's Republic of China, becoming the first American president to do so, Reagan said at the Shanghai banquet:

"Today, America and China share the commitment to go forward together to write a new chapter of peace and progress for our people. "My visit to China leaves me confident that U.S.-China relations are good and getting better," he said.

The president returns to the United States Tuesday morning, crossing the international dateline and landing in Fairbanks, Alaska, after first visiting a child care center and moving into a private residence at a commune on May Day, the international workers' holiday.

In his farewell meeting with Li, Reagan was said by White House spokesman Larry Speakes to have told the Chinese president:

"We have seen your great monuments such as the Great Wall. But we're not working mortar and stone here. My hope is that we can accomplish something between ourselves that will also be remembered 1,000 years from now."

From the farewell ceremony in Peking, Reagan flew south to this teeming city of 10 million.

Supreme Court sets libel ruling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court, in a decision that could save news organizations millions of dollars annually, ruled Monday that appeals courts have broad power to second-guess trial courts in libel cases.

The 6-3 ruling, greeted with a sigh of relief by news media representatives, killed a $210,905 award to a stereo loudspeaker manufacturer that had sued Consumer Reports magazine.

"The requirement of independent appellate review . . . reflects a deeply held conviction that judges—and particularly members of this court—must exercise such review in order to preserve the precious liberties established and ordained by the Constitution," Justice John Paul Stevens wrote for the court.

Union Board proposal vote planned

by Charlotte Arnold

The Faculty Senate Tuesday will vote on three proposals recommended by the student-faculty relations committee, concerning the University Union and Union Board.

Senate Chairman Richard Goodrick said one commendation is to appoint Union Board faculty members for three-year terms, with first-year members serving without voting power.

Ken Sutton, committee chairman, said if approved, the proposal will increase the length of the Union Board terms, which would lead to a more efficient board.

A second proposal involves a request to explore the possibility of separate energy metering at the Union to ensure fairness in energy charges.

The committee also proposes that a member of the Business College (particularly of the accounting department) always serve on the Union Board, for financial and recording purposes.

In other business, the senate will receive a report from the nominations committee concerning campus committee appointments, Goodrick said.

In addition, Edwin May of the research and grant department will speak on the issue of a proposed restructuring of the Council on Research, he added.

Also, the senate will vote for fall semester senate officers, Goodrick said.

The Faculty Senate is scheduled to meet for the final time this semester at 2:15 p.m. Tuesday in the Union addition Martinsville room.

Summer school pre-enrollment schedule set

by Douglas Backstrom

Eastern students may complete pre-enrollment, which includes the payment of fees, for intersession and the five and eight-week summer sessions Tuesday through Thursday in the south basement of McAfee Gym, David Sardella, Eastern's assistant director of registration, said.

Students should report to McAfee according to the schedule determined by the last digit of their social security number, he said.

Students who miss their scheduled time may register any time after their scheduled time, Sardella said.

Failure to complete enrollment will result in cancellation of classes, he added.

Eastern's Registration Director Micheal Talyor said the total cost of tuition and fees for a full-time student who is an Illinois resident will be $389.15 for lower division undergraduates, $405.15 for upper division undergraduates and $433.15 for graduate students.

A full-time student who has a teacher education, military, or legislative scholarship will have to pay $83.20, Taylor added.

Students should have checks in hand when completing pre-enrollment. Taylor said if checks are returned because of insufficient funds, the student's classes will be canceled and they will have to register

Students could ease VPAA search difficulty

The next two weeks will be difficult for both Eastern students and the vice president for academic affairs search committee.

Many students will be busily preparing final papers and studying for finals and the VPAA search committee will be busily trying to recommend a candidate to Eastern President Stanley Rives.

But the search committee appears to have hit a snag.

It is because this snag has cropped up that input is definitely needed to fill the same void that surfaced when former VPAA Rives became Eastern's president.

These problems began when two of the five finalists withdrew their applications and accepted positions elsewhere.

Two additional finalists have since been picked from the many applicants.

The two remaining candidates will tour Eastern during these last two weeks of school and the search committee hopes to make its recommendation to Rives on May 11, one day after the final candidate visits.

To invite two more candidates for campus interviews seems to signal that the search committee is not satisfied with choosing from the three remaining candidates.

For personnel reasons, committee chairman Barbara Owens did not disclose why two more candidates were selected for interviews. According to Board of Governors' regulations, the committee is not required to make their recommendations from a field of five finalists.

Therefore, it may be that the three candidates do not fully meet the criteria originally established by the search committee. Or it just may be that the committee wants to search until it can find the best vice president possible by interviewing as many candidates as possible.

It is for this reason that input from students, faculty and administrators is especially needed to aid the VPAA search committee.

Students, especially, should take the time to find out when the vice presidential candidates will be available to answer student questions.

They should also make recommendations to the search committee on candidates they prefer and offer the committee criteria to consider before recommending a candidate to Rives.

The next two weeks will be difficult for the search committee, as well as for students. But students should schedule some of their study time to aid the vice presidential search committee in making a wise decision.

Loss for conversation and pie

Editor:

I just read the Faculty Senate minutes for April 17. I quote: "Clark reported that a faculty dining (room) in the University Union is not feasible because not enough faculty members eat in the Union—this has been true for years."

Of course it has been true for several years. The all-school cafeteria has been lost to the university for years.

However, it is not the loss of a "faculty room" that grieves the faculty. The faculty never had the luxury of a faculty room. The primary loss is that the faculty no longer have contact with the students. Do you see the students eating with the faculty in Hardee's? No. What a loss to both groups. It was long ago that the faculty and the students met in the cafeteria and shared conversation, ideas and each other. No more.

What other loss does the faculty feel? Meat dishes carefully prepared and dispensed by professional cooks. Veggies with variety. Pies...of several flavors. Were these delicacies limited to a "faculty room?"

No, my dears. They were consumed by faculty, many students, visiting townspeople, service clubs, out-of-town debate squads and old ladies. It was community property. But no more. The students won't fund community projects.

Or is the Union administration saving themselves work by claiming that the students (notice who speaks for the students in this discussion) fund the Union and won't fund the community?

Recognition is well deserved

The tribute paid to Ruby Trimble by the Greeks made my day much brighter. I have watched Ruby for several years, always giving and doing and expecting little in return.

I am pleased to see her receive some of the recognition she deserves so very much.

Herb Brooks

Applicant waited too long

Editor:

Currently, there is an organization on Eastern's campus called Tassels, which is an all-university honor society for students who excel in academics, leadership and service.

To be eligible for this organization, one must be of junior standing, have a cumulative grade point average of 3.5 or above and must "give evidence of leadership through some type of campus or community activity." Apparently, one must be willing to be jerked around, also.

I was asked to apply, and after two months of waiting I began to look in my mailbox for some word from the organization. Nothing. I waited another week. Nothing. Not even a rejection slip. Some people that I know told me to call the office of Herbert Lasky, Director of Honors Programs, who told me to call the office of Glenn Williams, vice president for academic affairs. They then informed me that I was not up to scratch for such an organization, and therefore was not selected.

Although I did not expect a registered letter telling me that I did not make it, I would have appreciated some sort of word on the results in order to keep me from laying around like a lox waiting to see if I had gained this "honor."

Hmmm...an honor society that notifies those accepted and ignores those who aren't...quite a classy operation.

Michael Fonk

Thank you for election help

Editor:

I am taking this opportunity to thank all of those who helped with the 1984 spring student government election. Firstly, thanks to Kelly Stewart and her co-workers in Computer Services for their patience and the long hours they put in on the night of the election.

Also thank you to the student senators and the many others that offered their time working at the polls and especially hand counting the ballots. (I promise, no more 3 a.m. phone calls.)

A big thank you is also extended to Mike Long and Anita Craig for all the support and direction. Finally, a thank you to my co-chairpersons Dede Haut and Lori Wilson for all their hard work and dedication. You guys are super.

Thanks to all who helped run a smooth election.

'Moon' casts spell of supernatural love

Eastern's Theater production of Dark Of The Moon, directed by Gerald Ivan, is a bewitching tale of love and nothing to brew about.

Looking at the scene settings and listening to the music played was reminiscent of scenes from the old films of Dark Shadows.

The play opens with John the witch played by senior Jeff Bennett, king for Conjur Man, played by Andre Copeland.

Conjur Man lives in the Smoky Mountains with his wife and the witch. Bennett is searching for Conjur Man because he wants the Conjur Man to make him human.

By becoming human, John can marry the beautiful Barbara Allen—played by junior Diana Hopkins—who's copper-colored hair attracts the witch boy.

John fell in love with the mortal Barbara Allen the first night he saw her shining in the moonlight. He couldn't resist, and stopped to talk with her.

Because John has lived all his life as a witch boy, Conjur Man tries to convince him he wouldn't want to be human. "You'll miss the the moon, your eagle will miss you," Conjur Man tells the witch boy.

Witches can't be changed," Copeland adds in a deep southern accent. However, Andre's wife, Conjur Man, played by freshman Denise Jones, tells John she can change him, she can make him human, but only if he agrees to a certain compromise.

The witch boy marries Barbara Allen and she stays faithful to him for one full year, he can stay with her.

However, if she doesn't, he must return to his immortality and fly with his eagle and the other witches.

Hopkins plays the role of the beautiful Barbara Allen with ease and splendor. However, the couple does not do a convincing job at making the audience believe they are in love. This is the only drawback of the play.

The townspeople who live in Chunky Gal Mountain with Barbara Allen and her family are strict southern Christian country folks directed on the ways of the Lord by the hypocritical preacher Haggler, played by junior Kurt Christensen.

These people have difficulty taking to strangers, especially John. During a country dance, John asks Barbara Allen to dance with him, but Marvin Hudgens, played by junior Jim Romanovich, the strongest man in Chunky Gal Mountain, doesn't want it that way. He wants to dance with her.

John tells him that he cannot dance with Barbara Allen. So Marvin challenges him to a fight.

When he attempts to attack John, Marvin gets struck down by a bolt of lightning. During this time the townspeople just stare in awe.

This act strikes fear in the hearts of the townspeople. They begin to sense that John is evil. However, Barbara Allen does not believe anything is wrong with John, even though he doesn't want to get married in a church, doesn't know how old he is and doesn't have a last name.

During the rest of the play, John is visited by his witch friends who keep reminding him he is a witch, and plead with him to come back to the Smoky Mountains.

However, John loves Barbara Allen and refuses to leave her. But the pressure from the townspeople is too much for them both, and this forces Barbara Allen to leave her family and go off to live with John.

John's witch friends are more infuriated by this, and they make a bargain with Conjur Man. If Barbara Allen is unfaithful to John, he must return to immortality and she must die.

The townspeople learn of the bargain, but they don't know that Barbara Allen must die—they just know that it would rid Chunky Gal Mountain of the witch boy.

Barbara Allen's mother takes her to church and preacher Haggler explains that being unfaithful is the only way to get rid of John, so he forces her to her knees to "repent."

Many will find that Dark Of The Moon is filled with good acting and special effects that will send chills up your spine.

The final showing of Dark Of The Moon is at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Doudna Fine Arts Center. Tickets are available from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Union. Tickets are $2 for students.

Budgets top UB's agenda

The University Board will meet Tuesday to discuss entertainment for Parent's Weekend, UB Chairman Floyd Akins said.

Akins said at the last UB meeting, UB members approved Rich Little as the entertainment for Parent's Weekend. However, he said UB will discuss rescinding the vote due to financial considerations.

Little may not be feasible, he said, because the money he is asking for payment is above the planned Parent's Weekend budget.

Akins said if UB decides to retain Little as the entertainment, tickets for the event will be about $12.

Akins said he believes $12 is too much to ask the parents to pay, when they are already paying to come down.

However, he added that at this time there is no firm alternative.

In other business, the UB will approve all budget requests that the individual coordinators have designated for the 1984-85 school year, Akins said.

He said about $50,000 is being requested for various forms of entertainment.

The UB is scheduled to meet at 6 p.m. Tuesday in the Union addition Casey room.

Eastern President Stanley Rives'. Although the senate had discussed amending the budget on Wednesday to change the line item creation, Wesel said he advised against that because "it would be a dangerous precedent to set." The AB, he said, is charged with fee allocation and "we should take their word" on the budget process. "However, in this case the AB didn't even listen to the students." Wesel met with Williams Monday morning, and said "he assured me he would consider and view the allocation thoroughly." Hunt said although Williams now has the budgets and will decide the issue, the $10,000 would "provide flexibility" in the UB concert budget. The UB originally sought the line item creation, Hunt said, for two reasons. The money would be used for bargaining power with bands and to give students a $1 to $3 discount on ticket prices, he said. "If it helps students," Hunt said,

"that's fine and I don't see anything wrong with it." However, he added, "the bands are going to get paid anyway," and if Williams were to delete the funds, "I don't see how that's going to hurt" the UB. The UB's concert coordinator, John Karol, said it is "important" that the $10,000 receive administration approval, since it "helps" students. "I'm glad the AB went on with it," Karol said.

Panther sophomore shortstop Tammi Rettig dives for a line drive hit up the middle during the first of a double-header softball game against the University of Evansville Monday. The Panther's were victorious in the first game 3-0 but the second game ended in a 0-0 tie after 20 innings because it was too dark to continue play. (News photo by Frank Polich)

Nightcap called after 20 innings

by Mike Nelson

If Eastern's women's softball team didn't build up their confidence during Monday's games for this weekend's Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference tournament, they sure built up their endurance.

Eastern won the first game of the doubleheader against the University of Evansville 3-0, but after 20 innings, tied the second game 0-0. The contest was called because of darkness.

Eastern scored all of its runs in the fourth inning.

Sophomore Tammi Rettig lead off the inning with a single, then stole second. Rettig was then caught in a run down between second and third after a Kathy Ranges sacrifice. Rettig made it to third base safely, while Range wound up on second. Lori Conine followed with a two-RBI double and Janet Blacker singled to score Conine from second to finish Eastern's scoring.

Eastern's Shelly Eddington got the victory in the first game after striking out four and walking none.

"I was definitely happy with our defense in both games," Eastern coach Deanna D'Abbraccio said. "Shelly pitched a great game and had great defense behind her."

In the marathon second game both teams played almost flawless defense.

"Again I was very pleased with our defense, but I was a little concerned with our hitting," D'Abbraccio said.

In the defensive struggle Eastern threatened three times in the 13th, 17th and 19th innings.

In the 13th, Rettig led off with a single and moved to second on a bunt single by Donna Ridgway. Range then moved both runners to second and third with a sacrifice. With one out, the Evansville pitcher intentionally walked Conine to load the bases. Janet Blacker fouled out, then Fran Stalter popped out to end the scoring threat.

In the 17th, Jocim reached on a bunt single and Tiegs followed with a single down the third baseline. With runners on first and second and one out, Rettig hit a fly ball to left field and Jochim was thrown out at third trying to tag up.

In the 19th, Blacker led off with a single and stole second. Stalter then sacrificed Blacker to third and pinch-hitter Eddington and Becky Jochim were then intentionally walked to load the bases with only one out. The final two outs were made when Tiegs hit a grounder and Blacker was forced out at the plate, and with bases still loaded, Rettig popped out.

Ridgway pitched all 20 innings in the second game enroute to two strike outs and two walks.

Western leads after two rounds, gusting winds inflate golf scores

by Ken Dickson

Between the cold—an arctic 38 degrees—and the wind—with gusts of up to 50 miles an hour—it was surprising the Association of Mid-Continent Universities' conference golf meet even teed-off Monday at Mattoon Country Club.

And in most cases, the golfers probably wish it hadn't.

The first round, which began at 8 a.m., was cluttered with scores which ranged from so-so—the average was in the mid-80s—to horrible, with 10 of the 34 golfers shooting a 90 or more.

The second 18 holes were a little better for most of the teams, since the temperature rose a little, but still the scores were higher than normal for most of the golfers.

"It made a big difference walking out there," Eastern golfer Jim Jessen said. "The ground was soft and the wind was blowing so hard, you got pretty tired in the second round."

Some of the other golfers commented that the wind was moving balls sitting on the greens, and that every time you tried to get set, a big gust of wind would hit you. One golfer even admitted three-putting on eleven of his holes.

Despite all the high scores and bruised egos, Western Illinois University held a five-stroke lead over Eastern, 636-641.

Southwest Missouri State University, which was only one stroke behind Western Illinois and 12 strokes ahead of the Panthers after 18 holes, finished the first two rounds in third place at 648. University of Northern Iowa, 652; University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, 687; Valparaiso University, 692; and Cleveland State University, 710; rounded out the scoring for the seven schools.

The final 18 holes will begin at 8 a.m. Tuesday.

"I figured that if we could be within four of five strokes" of the leader "going into the last day, we'd have a shot at them," Eastern coach Kevin Anglin said. "It seems I was right on target."

"I'm fearful of Eastern," Western Illinois coach Harry Mussato said. "And I'm not giving up on Southwest Missouri either. It should be very interesting Tuesday, because five strokes can be made up on one hole."

Eastern sophomore Dave Ransom, who carded his best effort of the season—a 72 in the first round—finished Monday in first place with a 153. Western's Mike McNeil and Tom Roegner, who finished first and fifth in last year's event, are tied at 154.

Eastern's Brent Richardson, who said he had his worst score in several years on the Mattoon course—an 82—scored a 75 on the second round and is currently in third place at 157.

Clay Snyder, who improved his first round score—a whopping 93—to card a 74 on the second round finished at 167. Jessen had rounds of 86-82 for a 168 and Brent Herrin scored 171 on rounds of 89 and 82.

Tournament notes...Western's Tom Govern scored an eagle on the 17th hole from 145 yards out. The ball bounced onto the green and rolled from the left side to the right and dropped in. He finished the round with an 83....Eastern's Brent Richardson is playing his 17th season on the Mattoon course....So far as the weather goes, Tuesday is supposed to be mostly sunny and warmer with temperatures in the 60's and winds dropping to 10 miles per hour.
